Certified Physician Assistants

Maggie Jones is a board-certified Physician Assistant, graduating in 2020 from Lincoln Memorial. Just starting her journey in the healthcare field, she started with Family Medicine before moving into geriatric care.

Maggie has always been inspired to be in the healthcare field due to her mother being a nurse. She desired to work in a hands-on profession where she had the ability to help and connect with others. In her free time Maggie enjoys hiking, camping, skiing, snowboarding and rock climbing.

If she wasn't working in the healthcare field, she would be either running a cat café or doing ski patrol.
